SOUTH AUSTRALIA HAS THE COMPLETE AUSTRALIAN EXPERIENCE YOU'VE ALWAYS DREAMED OF

Adelaide, South Australia's capital, is a city of art, café culture, great restaurants, the iconic Adelaide Oval and the busy 145 year-old Adelaide Central Market.

Named as one of the Great Wine Capitals of the World, Adelaide is the gateway to 18 tantalising wine regions. Within an hour's drive either north, east or south, you'll find yourself enjoying a glass or two of the country's finest. The iconic Barossa has more than 80 cellar doors and some of the finest regional restaurants in the country; the Adelaide Hills is known for its cool climate varieties, and McLaren Vale produces some of the best dry reds in the world. Further afield you'll find the Clare Valley for Riesling lovers, and the Coonawarra for its big, hearty reds.

Adelaide is also the gateway to the outback. Five hours' drive north of Adelaide is the beautiful, ancient rock formation and natural amphitheatre of Wilpena Pound. Further north in the underground town of Coober Pedy, go 'noodling' for opals, a beautiful multi-coloured gemstone unique to Australia.

For a coastal escape, the Eyre Peninsula is a short flight away. Feast on succulent fresh seafood or get close to nature with one of the many aquatic activities available, such as cage diving with great white sharks, or swimming with friendly sea lions and dolphins. For less open waters, hire a luxury houseboat on the great Murray River and relax as you slowly drift past the landscapes teeming with wildlife. The ultimate island escape can be found on Kangaroo Island where its conservation status means that the native Australian animals including kangaroos, koalas, echidnas, wallabies, sea lions and dolphins can be seen thriving in their island environment.

Get closer to the good things in life, and start your Australian holiday in Adelaide, South Australia.

THE CITY THAT LETS YOU DISCOVER IT AT YOUR OWN PACE

Adelaide is a relaxed, sophisticated city, fringed by vineyards and long, sandy beaches. Discover North Terrace, Adelaide's cultural precinct – home to the state's Art Gallery, with permanent and temporary exhibitions and one of Australia's finest collections of Australian and international art. The South Australian Museum exhibits the world's largest collection of Australian Aboriginal Cultural artefacts with over 3000 on display. Along North Terrace you will also find, the State Library, Parliament House, the SKYCITY Adelaide and National Wine Centre of Australia. Nearby, the River Torrens Precinct is a place of pedal boats, cafés and walking paths, with the world-famous Adelaide Oval at its centre, as well as the Adelaide Botanic Garden and the Adelaide Zoo (home to Wang Wang and Fu Ni, the only Giant Pandas in the Southern Hemisphere).

A gourmet paradise renowned for its food culture including beachfront cafés, alfresco dining and the Adelaide Central Market, the largest undercover fresh produce market in the Southern Hemisphere. It's a gourmet hub that literally lets you taste an entire state that's famous in Australia for its brilliant produce. Take a market tour or discover the flavours and ambience for yourself.

The warm Mediterranean climate of Adelaide draws people out in their thousands, spilling on to footpaths for dining and socialising. Stroll down one of the bustling 'eat streets' – Hutt, Rundle, Waymouth or Gouger, lined with a range of Asian cuisines and fine dining options. Small, lively bars are springing up around the city, revitalising previously empty buildings and laneways such as Leigh Street and Peel Street. They're serving South Australian craft beer, wine, and locally distilled gin, and others are specialising in cocktails, rum or whiskey, complete with nibbles, bar snacks and live music.

Don't miss two of South Australia's food and wine icons – a tour of Haigh's, Australia's oldest family-owned chocolate company, and Penfolds Magill Estate, home of Penfolds Grange, the wine that put Australia on the world wine map.

And then there's the shopping! Rundle Mall is the heart of Adelaide's shopping district, home to over 700 retail stores. Extending to Rundle Street east, it is a lively dining strip with plenty of designer shopping opportunities. Burnside Village is home to big name boutiques and smaller fashion houses and Harbour Town offers outlet shopping. Shopping highlights include South Australian specialties such as wine, food, outback wear (R.M. Williams), organic skincare (Jurlique, made in the Adelaide Hills) and opals mined in the South Australian Outback.

Adelaide really is the perfect place to start your South Australian holiday. Whether you plan to explore the vineyards, wildlife, beaches, Murray River or the Outback, you can enjoy short trips from the city or pick up a rental car and explore the neighbouring regions at your own pace, any time of the year.

In February and March Adelaide stamps its authority as Australia's cultural mecca with the culmination of the Adelaide Festival, Adelaide Fringe and WOMADelaide, a cultural feast unique to Adelaide.

ARTS AND CULTURE

Small independent galleries featuring local contemporary artists such as the JamFactory complement the historic Art Gallery of South Australia. Close by the South Australian Museum and Tandanya National Aboriginal Cultural Institute exhibits the work of Aboriginal Australian artists. Throughout the year choose from a stellar line up of theatre, music and dance acts at one of the many theatres and venues, including the Adelaide Festival Centre.

LOCAL FLAVOURS

EXPERIENCE NEW FLAVOURS, FRESH INGREDIENTS AND TASTE A SAMPLE OF WHAT MAKES OUR PRODUCE SOUGHT AFTER WORLDWIDE

Wine connoisseurs around the world know that South Australia is synonymous with excellent wines. While the Barossa, McLaren Vale and Coonawarra are home to many world-class, award-winning wineries, they represent just a handful of the state's great wine regions. In fact, there are more than 200 cellar doors on Adelaide's doorstep. However, there's more to South Australia than our wine. Our food is just as glorious!

Whether you'd rather meet the growers and makers, pick your own ingredients, or dine in any of our world-class restaurants, South Australians and our visitors are spoilt for choice. Visit the Adelaide Central Market in the city, or any of the regional farmers' markets (Willunga and Barossa to name a few) to experience new flavours, fresh ingredients and taste a sample of what makes our produce sought after worldwide.

If you have more time, you might want to follow one of the many produce or wine trails – by car, foot, or bicycle.

From the cooler climate of the Adelaide Hills to the seafood frontier that is the Eyre Peninsula, the great food bowl that surrounds the Murray River to the natural wonder of Kangaroo Island, our wonderful state produces some incredible, and sometimes surprising, delicacies. This is the world of South Australian food and wine – it's what we're famous for.

Both are fishing ports and the pristine waters are perfect for sailing, surfing and swimming. Visitors can take a guided tour to the water level or tour limestone caves beneath the city streets and walk through stunning gardens created inside sinkholes.

South Australia's coastline is dotted with towns, beaches, cliffs and jetties that are home to stunning natural beauty (gulfs, peninsulas, calm sheltered bays), memorable adventures, and great food and wine experiences.

The Eyre Peninsula is packed with adventure experiences – cage dive with great white sharks; surf on one of the many beaches; swim with sea lions. For something a little more leisurely, follow the seafood trail and sample some of the local delicacies.

The Limestone Coast, Fleurieu Peninsula, Kangaroo Island and Yorke Peninsula are equally action packed, with fishing, boating, skydiving, joy flights and scuba diving being just some of the activities on offer.

One thing you'll notice as you tour the coast is that food and wine are woven into the South Australian lifestyle. The local produce is often freshest and the best. Taste fresh crayfish, oysters, farmed tuna, kingfish sashimi, delicate King George whiting and giant snapper. Many coastal regions offer award-winning wine to accompany this seafood – get tasting!
